

A tribute to the old and beautiful

DC lamp series by Michael Waltersdorff

When mixing industrial design, aesthetics and elegance together, the outcome can be really beautiful. At least if you see our new lamp serie from D.C.

D.C is a tribute to the great design made back in 1907, also known among "The World's Most Beautiful Train Stations". in Washington D.C., U.S.A and is one of our most promising collection this year.

It is in the details

With the hand made oakwood, polished aluminium buttons and matt painted steel shade, D.C casts a warm and glarefree ambient light that makes the surroundings in your home look beautiful.

It is much more than a lamp

The design stands out, with its minimalistic rounded shape and aluminium buttons. The handmade oakwood strap is designed to make the steel shade adjustable - including the pendants, wich gives you endless of possibilities, making the light suitable and fit in any room or any occasion.

The colors are thoroughly chosen and makes it easy to fit in a classic or traditional home.

The D.C lamp serie is available in pendants, tablelamps, or floorlamps in many different sizes. The shade colors are white or black matt steel.

Halo Design

Halo Design is functional lighting founded on almost 25 years of experience, and an equal passion for technology, knowledge and aesthetics. Halo Design was started by Michael Waltersdorff, who at the age of 18 founded the company Halo Design based on a very democratic idea: creating lighting based on modern technology and functional design solutions that everyone can relate to. Michael Waltersdorff is still as entrepreneurial and fascinated by light today as he was back then, with a passion for lamps where the consumer has a say in relation to the lighting and a passion for materials and alternative methods for expressing the quality of the material.
